Fresh Breads from Schuler's Bakery

MARSHALL, MI, June 15, 2009 ---"Eat thy bread with joy..." reads a 'famous saying' on the beams of Schuler's historic Centennial Room Restaurant in Marshall, Michigan, and, as part of its 100th Anniversary celebration this year, the restaurant is helping its guests do exactly that, by providing fresh baked goods on a daily basis—produced by one of the Midwest's Certified Master Bakers.

Each day, Pat Dulaney gets up before dawn to turn out more than 100 loaves of fresh bread and more than 100 pounds of crackers, cookies, rolls and cakes. Dulaney, one of a limited number of Certified Master Bakers in the United States, credits his career to Schuler's for providing him the financial support to attend the National Bakery Institute in Minneapolis, where he earned his credentials.

Dulaney brings plenty of expertise to his daily tasks, having served in production manager roles for two of Michigan's well-known bakeries, Mackenzies in Kalamazoo and Zingerman's Bakehouse in Ann Arbor. "We really are very pleased to have Pat return as our head baker," says Schuler's President, Larry Schuler. "He's bringing back many recipes that were favorites among our guests, as well as adding creative new choices for today's consumers."

Schuler's baking schedule changes daily, with at least nine different breads being produced on a rotating schedule. Fresh Sourdough is baked every day and guest favorite Bavarian Wheat on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays. Other current varieties include Rosemary Garlic, Midwest Grain, Country French, Dark German Pumpernickel, Honey Oatmeal, Cranberry Walnut, and Cinnamon Raisin. A weekly baking schedule is available at the front desk in the restaurant.

Schuler's Restaurant & Pub is celebrating its 100th year of business with "100 days of Summer" specials: "Get Mugged" on Tuesdays in the Pub, enjoy live music on Wednesdays, and savor Grill Nights on Thursdays—rain or shine—with flavorful dishes prepared on Schuler's Patio.

Schuler's Restaurant and Pub, a Michigan dining tradition for 100 years, is located at 115 South Eagle Street in historic Marshall, Michigan, and is open every day except Christmas.
